Introducing »inno«, the high-tech magazine tailored for enthusiasts and professionals in microtechnology, nanotechnology, advanced materials, optics, and photonics. Our publication is dedicated to showcasing the practical applications of these cutting-edge innovations across various industry sectors, keeping readers abreast of current trends and forthcoming advancements. Published three times a year, »inno« aims to highlight the tangible economic benefits of high-tech solutions.

Delivered as a complimentary PDF magazine via email, »inno« reaches approximately 6,500 industry and science aficionados. Our audience includes senior executives from research and development, technical and sales management, and executive boards, alongside experts from governmental authorities and associations.

Additionally, free print editions are distributed at all IVAM events, including trade shows, workshops, and conferences.

Join us in exploring the forefront of innovation with „inno“ – where Innovative Technologies meet New Applications.
